ATLANTA, Georgia — Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies has named 3PD one of "100 Great Supply Chain Partners" for 2008.

It is 3PD's first appearance on the annual list and the first of several pieces of national recognition the company expects to receive this summer.

Global Logistics & Supply Chain compiles the list based on write-in nominations received from its readers and visitors to its sister web site, all of whom can suggest the name of any vendor that has made a significant contribution to their company's efficiency, customer service or supply chain. The magazine receives nearly two thousand nominations each year and chooses winners based on the vendors who receive the most and most robust nominations.

"There are a lot of accolades a company can receive. But being called a 'great partner' has to be one of the best of them," said 3PD CEO Karl Meyer. "We're thankful to all of the clients who took the time to nominate us, and we're grateful to the editors at Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies for choosing us."

Established in 1997, Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies is one of the logistics industry's leading trade publications. Published monthly, it reaches more than 50,000 professionals in supply chain management and logistics.
